the air force unit stationed in JUSTERBOG-ALTES LAGER for about five weeks had come from DRESDEN (N 52/F 29). The troops showed very little discipline. About 30 ground attack aircraft, an improvised version of the Il-2 type with a higher speed and "changed wings", were parked at the airfield.

Comment:

a. According to this report it is assumed that the ground attack regiment previously stationed in DRESDEN-KLOTZSCHE was transferred to JUSTERBOG-ALTES LAGER. This assumption has not been confirmed by other sources. It is considered possible that this transfer was a part of the general transfer of all ground attack units. Besides the regiment from DRESDEN-KLOTZSCHE a ground attack regiment from GROSSENHAIN is also assumed to be stationed in JUSTERBOG-ALTES LAGER, as was inferred from shipments and motor vehicle numbers seen. Some of the fighter units previously stationed at the JUSTERBOG-ALTES LAGER airfield were observed in BRANDENBURG-Arado.

b. The described aircraft type may be the Il-10.
